

Pause TELUS's Vancouver AI Data Centres

Vancouver Centre NDP ■ Unceded Musqueam, Squamish, and Tsleil-Waututh territory

TELUS and Westbank — billionaire Ian Gillespie's Vancouver development firm — want to build two AI data centres in Vancouver: 100 MW at 150 West Georgia downtown, and a repurposed facility at 111 East 5th Avenue in Mount Pleasant. The AI tenants have not been named. Billions of dollars in NVIDIA GPU procurement will leave Canada. BC is importing dirty power, and Metro Vancouver is in drought.

"I call on the federal government to pause TELUS and Westbank's two proposed Vancouver AI data centres — 150 West Georgia downtown and 111 East 5th Avenue in Mount Pleasant — until the AI companies set to rent the compute are publicly named, and until free, prior and informed consultation with the Musqueam, Squamish, and Tsleil-Waututh Nations has taken place. Our energy, our water, and our democratic process must serve people who live here."
